

Swenson Civil Engineering Building

[duluth, mn]

Owner: University of Minnesota Duluth

Architect: SJA Architects

Description: New Construction (occupied campus), 34,000 SF. This two-story, high-tech teaching / training center houses the University of Minnesota Duluth's civil engineering programs. The building adjoins Voss Kovach Hall (home of the mechanical and industrial engineering programs) and features specialized teaching and research classrooms and laboratories. Two of the six laboratories are two-stories in height with full glass walls and promote "Engineering on Display," which showcases to viewers what civil engineers actually do.

The project has received LEED Gold Certification.
